

AP World History – Week of May 25 – May 29

The requirements for the class have been met and the class has been completed.

Modern World Studies Period 1 and 3 – Week of May 25 – May 29

Hello Periods 1 and 3,

This brings us to the final week of the year. I wish we had more time together (specifically in the classroom) to discuss the unique changes that impact the world that we now live in. Unfortunately, we have run out of time. The final three assignments are an opportunity for you to review what we have taught you and teach us something that you hoped we would have had a chance to cover in class. As always, you can work ahead to complete the assignments for the week all at once or divide and complete in stages. Just be certain to meet the due date. Follow the steps and instructions to ensure understanding of the assignment. If you have questions, please do not hesitate to contact Mr. Kubistek or Mr. Stone. As always, we are still here to help you (email below or phone contact 412-828-1800 x1081). Don't let a question be the reason you do not complete an assignment.

Final Assignments:

WORTH 30 HOMEWORK POINTS (Each is worth 10)

Assignment Instructions

This is a reflection on the year as a whole. Anything we discussed is fair game. You will have 3 different essays to write this week. Each essay is due on a different day. Please let us know if you have questions.

Due Tuesday, May 26 at 11:59 PM

1. One page, 1.5 spacing minimum: Pick the most important person discussed throughout the year. Who are they? What makes them important? Essentially, this boils down to why did you pick them?

Due Wednesday, May 27 at 11:59 PM

2. One page, 1.5 spacing minimum: What was the most interesting unit to you this past year? What made it interesting? Why is it important to study? Think all the way back to the start of the year. (Man-baby art, yeah that long ago)

Due Friday, May 29 at 11:59 PM

3. One page, 1.5 spacing minimum: Thousands of years is a long time. We barely talked about a millennium worth of time (more if you factor in the brief coverage of Aristotelian Sciences during the Scientific Revolution Unit). The point is, we definitely missed some part of history that you would have found interesting. So, this is completely open-ended with no date constraints or anything (just needs to be appropriate). Tell us about something YOU find interesting in history that we did not discuss. (Remember to include a works cited for this assignment since it did not come from your class notes)

**If you have trouble with a topic for the final assignment, email Mr. Kubistek and Mr. Stone on an individual basis. We were considering giving a list of 20-30 different topics to get the ideas flowing. However, we did not want to limit your thoughts. We would love to learn about something new that you find interesting!*

WE WILL ONLY REPLY WITH TOPIC HELP EMAILS UP THROUGH MAY 29 at NOON

Assignment: Email to Mr. Kubistek kkubistek@rsd.k12.pa.us and Mr. Stone jstone@rsd.k12.pa.us by 11:59 PM on the respective due date

Homework title in Gradebook: "Final Assignment"

Modern World Studies Period 4 and 5 – Week of May 25 – May 29

Hello Periods 4 and 5,

This brings us to the final week of the year. I wish we had more time together (specifically in the classroom) to discuss the unique changes that impact the world that we now live in. Unfortunately, we have run out of time. The final three assignments due at the end of the week are an opportunity for you to review what we have taught you and teach us something that you hoped we would have had a chance to cover in class. If you have questions, please do not hesitate to contact Mr. Kubistek or Mr. Stone. As always, we are still here to help you (email below or phone contact 412-828-1800 x1081). Don't let a question be the reason you do not complete an assignment. Also, remember; feel free to work at your own pace. If you would like to complete the work early, feel free to do so.

4. Final Assignment: (Due Friday, May 29)

WORTH 30 HOMEWORK POINTS

Assignment Instructions

This is a reflection on the year as a whole. Anything we discussed is fair game.

1. One page, 1.5 spacing minimum: Pick the most important person discussed throughout the year. Who are they? What makes them important? Essentially, this boils down to why did you pick them?
2. One page, 1.5 spacing minimum: What was the most interesting unit to you this past year? What made it interesting? Why is it important to study? Think all the way back to the start of the year. (Man-baby art, yeah that long ago)
3. Two pages, 1.5 spacing minimum: Thousands of years is a long time. We barely talked about a millennium worth of time (more if you factor in the brief coverage of Aristotelian Sciences during the Scientific Revolution Unit). The point is, we definitely missed some part of history that you would have found interesting. So, this is completely open-ended with no date constraints or anything (just needs to be appropriate). Tell us about something YOU find interesting in history that we did not discuss. (Remember to include a works cited for this assignment since it did not come from your class notes)

Assignment: Due Friday, May 29 send email to Mr. Kubistek kkubistek@rsd.k12.pa.us and Mr. Stone jstone@rsd.k12.pa.us by 11:59 PM.

Homework title in Gradebook: "Final Assignment"

Model UN – Week of May 25 May 29

The requirements for the class have been met and the class has been completed.