For additional information please contact:
Elissa Miller 412.828.1800 x4040
emiller@rsd.k12.pa.us

March 4, 2016

Press Release

Riverview Wins Awards at Johns Hopkins Model UN

From February 19-22, 8 Riverview students joined over 2000 students at the 19th annual Johns Hopkins University Model United Nations Conference. Riverview students participated in many discussions focusing on world issues. Some of the topics debated at the conference were how to solve the problems in Saudi Arabia, settle the dispute over the sovereignty of Hong Kong, the plight of women in developing nations, and the hypothetical death of Vladimir Putin. After all of the debate was completed, four Riverview students walked away with awards for the following roles:

Mackenzie Osborn, First Place Best Delegate for her role as Mohammad Bin Nayef Bin Abdulaziz Al Saud in the House of Saud Committee

Danielle Hanlon, First Place Best Delegate for her role as the Russian Federation in the Hong Kong 2022 Committee

Sam Glaser, Second Place Outstanding Delegate for his role as Cosimo De Medici in the Florence Committee Room of the Quadumvirate Council

Alexa Patsey, Second Place Outstanding Delegate for her role as the Russian Federation in the United Nations Security Council

These four awards bring the team total to 18 for this 2015-2106 season. The Model United Nations team is now looking forward to its final two events of the year, the non-competitive Model African Union and the annual competitive Westminster College Model United Nations Conference.