Riverview Model UN Students at Princeton University

During the four day weekend of November 19 - 22, 2015, eight Riverview High School Students joined approximately 850 students from the United States, Turkey, Canada and the Cayman Islands at the Princeton University Model United Nations Conference. The Riverview team of Sydney Reyes, Danielle Hanlon, Nick Porovne, Calvin Hogate, Emma Patterson, Dana Grover, Lena Ison, and Tyler Aber spent their weekend discussing problems facing nations such as Israel and the Ukraine, current issues of ISIS, refugees, and immigration, ways to defeat Napoleon, and even reliving the Cuban Missile Crisis. Two RSD teams were recognized with awards at the end of the conference.

Tyler Aber won a First Place Best Delegate award for his role as Andrei Gromyko - Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Soviet Union Cuban Missile Crisis Committee

Lena Ison won a Third Place Honorable Delegate award for her role as Yair Lapid (Yesh Atid) in the Knesset Cyber Security Committee.

Congratulations to Tyler, Lena, and to the entire Riverview Princeton Model UN team for a great conference experience.
