FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

2017 Three Rivers Educational Technology Conference

The annual TRETC (Three Rivers Educational Technology Conference) was held this year on November 7th, at Montour High School for teachers and K-12 administrators in the Pittsburgh area. This year's theme focused on "Digitizing Personalized Learning!"

TRETC includes student led presentations which focus on ways to use technology to MEET (Motivate, Engage, Empower and Transform) student learning through digital tools and options. These tools enhance personalized learning, promote collaboration, communication and empower students to drive their learning and become leaders in the classroom.

This year, teacher, Mrs. Rachelle Dene Poth and a group of Riverview students, Sean Abraham, Cassy DeBacco, Celaine Hornsby, and Ben Johnson, presented a session titled, Tech Tools, Tips and Tricks: Student Choices for Learning. During their session, they spoke about some of the different tools they find to be the most beneficial and empowering to them as they learn. They presented innovative ways to share their Project Based Learning, create authentic representations of their learning and collaborate and peer teach in a flexible, and blended learning environment.

Congratulations to these fine Riverview students for sharing their SERIOUS SUCCESS!
