Press Release

Mr. Neil English named Riverview Junior Senior High School

Assistant Principal

The Riverview School Board and Administrative team is pleased to announce that Mr. Neil English, of Wexford, PA, has been named the Assistant Principal of Riverview Junior Senior High School. Mr. English, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and Sacred Heart University, has administrative experience as a Central Office Director at Moon Area School District and as an Assistant Principal for grades 5 – 8 in Connecticut. He is currently working on his doctorate degree and has completed central office internships at Seneca Valley and Northgate Public Schools.

Mr. English has a range of experiences with students. He taught high school mathematics, middle school math and science, and served as an adjunct professor, teaching college algebra at Goodwin College in Connecticut. He was a high school teacher and residential counselor at a therapeutic boarding school serving middle and high school aged students. Additionally, Mr. English has coached middle school boys and girls soccer and middle and high school basketball. As a Resident Director for Semester at Sea, Mr. English coordinated college students' shipboard activities and excursion trips in the ports of Egypt and Israel. Lastly, Neil spent a year working as a volunteer for the AmeriCorps N.C.C.C. based in Charleston, South Carolina. There, he worked in urban schools, disaster relief areas, and children's hospitals in the Southeast. During this experience, he taught decoding and mathematics in many rural and urban schools.

The Board of School Directors is excited for Mr. English to join our educational team. His background, education, and experience with children of all ages will elevate an already talented group of educators as we continue with our commitment to the SERIOUS SUCCESS of each and every one of our students. Welcome Mr. English!
